Free and the Chambre FNAIM de Paris Ile-de-France renewing their partnership around fiber optic (FTTH)

Free and the Chambre FNAIM de Paris Ile-de-France are renewing their partnership around fiber to the home (FTTH) for a one-year period.

This agreement to cooperate with the leading real estate industry organization in Paris and the Greater Paris Region is enabling Free to promote its fiber to the home (FTTH) service in buildings with property managers that are members of the Chambre FNAIM Paris Ile-de-France.

Free is committed to a major deployment, aiming to build a very high speed network based on fiber to the home. By selecting a point-to-point architecture, Free is able to offer all the guarantees for competition (network that may be easily mutualized at a relevant level to cover several thousand homes) and sustainability.

Free's very high speed service is being offered at the same price as its ADSL service, i.e. 29.99 euros/month, with the Freebox enabling subscribers to benefit from downlink speeds of 100 Mbps and 50 Mbps on uplink, as well as a television service on two TV sets and unlimited telephone calls to fixed lines in 70 destinations.

The Chambre FNAIM Paris Ile-de-France groups together 1,800 real estate professionals in Paris, Les Yvelines, Essonne, Hauts de Seine, Seine Saint Denis, Val de Marne, Val d'Oise and Oise.

The FTTH service is available subject to eligibility and any authorizations required from public domain managers and/or owners (or their authorized representatives: lessors, property managers, etc.) for the buildings concerned.
