

Paris, 22 December 2009

Free includes unlimited calls to Morocco !

True to its strategy of continuously expanding its level of service for an unchanged price (€29.99 per month), Free will extend its unlimited phone call offering from 1 January 2010 by including calls to landlines in Morocco, thereby increasing the number of destinations included in its Freebox flat rate package to 103.

Already the first operator to have included calls to international destinations in its package, Free is now also the first to include unlimited calls to the landlines of Morocco.

This offer applies to all new Freebox subscribers (FTTH and ADSL, unbundled or not).

It is also available to existing subscribers after they validate the new terms and conditions of sale on their management console.

Freebox offer available in Mainland France, subject to phone line eligibility, see www.free.fr.

New pricing structure applicable from 1 January 2010, after validation of the new terms and conditions of sale posted to "Mes Conditions Générales de Vente", "Mon abonnement" tab. After 1 January 2010, the application of the new pricing structure will take effect within 24 hours after terms and conditions of sales are validated.

Unlimited number of calls to landlines in Morocco, subject to no excessive use, excluding calls to restricted mobility numbers of the Wana operator. Unlimited calls to Morocco guaranteed for 2010. Free reserves the right to revert to the current price if the Moroccan historic operator was to review its interconnection charges upward, after informing subscribers in accordance with applicable legal provisions.

Unlimited phone call offering, excluding calls to special numbers or to services supports other than interpersonal communications.

Free is an Iliad subsidiary. The Iliad Group is a major player in the French Internet access and telecommunications market via Free and Alice (4,420,000 ADSL subscribers as of 30 September 2009), Onetel and Iliad Télécom (fixed telephony providers) and IFW (Wimax). The Iliad Group is listed on Euronext Paris under the ticker ILD.