

Free Mobile Plan:

The first no-commitment mobile plan at less than €20/month including roaming from all European Union countries

Free was the first operator to include roaming communications from a European country in a no-commitment plan costing less than €20/month, in 2013. Since then, Free has constantly enhanced its Pass Destinations by including other countries.

Today, Free is expanding its “Pass Destination” to all European Union countries: Free Mobile Plan subscribers (€19.99/month or €15.99/month for Freebox subscribers) can use their Plan at no extra cost when they travel around the European Union, starting today:

- Unlimited outgoing calls from the EU country to this country and Metropolitan France 35 days per calendar year and per EU country
- Unlimited outgoing SMS and MMS messages from the EU country to this country and Metropolitan France 35 days per calendar year and per EU country
- 3G Mobile Internet access up to 3 GB/month (deducted from the Free Internet allowance) 35 days per calendar year.

The same applies to incoming communications that are included in the Free Mobile Plan.

This deal is simple to use and does not require users to install any applications on their phones. It applies to new and existing subscribers, regardless of how long ago they signed up, starting today.

By extending its Pass Destinations to all EU countries, Free is showing once again that it can unleash new possibilities without increasing its prices.

As a reminder, Free Mobile Plan subscribers also have roaming communications included from Canada and Israel, 35 days per calendar year, from each of these countries.
